"Provide today's fix and you've controlled today's problem—but acquire the skills to generate solutions & you control your future."

—Annette Dubrouillet

Annette Dubrouillet helps groups to move from confusion to clarity by expanding their creative thinking skills. She gets them Beyond Brainstorming. Her ingenious and humorous character portrayals loosen up even the most corporate audiences. With this imaginative approach she takes participants to a different place where they are open to possibilities and they can get to the core of their issues. Audiences pinpoint what is keeping them from being innovative and learn new ways to bring creative solutions to their work and their life.

With over twelve years as executive director of large social service programs for the United States Department of Army, she knows how to work with people to get things done—even in bureaucratic organizations. Annette has delivered hundreds of presentations worldwide to tens of thousands of participants who have gained more trust in themselves to work more effectively. Fellow speakers recognized Annette's leadership excellence and chose her to support them as president of the Washington DC chapter of Speakers Association. Add energy and thought provoking content to your next event and leave a lasting impression with Annette at the helm!

Unique, innovative and relevant presentations that empower you to control your future!
